Tax Rate Drops One Dollar

Andover's tax rate was announced this morning as being $29, or one dollar less than last year. The main reason for the decrease was an increase in valuation from additional property.

The total valuation last year was $15,756,782, and this year it is $15,986,540. Income has also slightly increased, so that although the town appropriations this year were $686,785 as against last year's $683,741, the net amount to be raised by taxation dropped slightly from $480,043 to $471,043.

Crowds Flock To Pomps Beach

SEE FRONT COVER

The biggest crowd in Pomps pond history took advantage of the town's bathing facilities this week, making it impossible to get all the equipment out in the usual speedy time. However, plans have gone ahead rapidly for the opening of the regular summer season of classes.

Swimming classes are to be held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 2 to 3:30 for beginners, with Bob Bisset in charge, assisted by William Kelley and Gordon White. Any adult person wishing instruction may have it by appointment, with no charge.

Red Cross classes are in charge of Bob Hackney, assisted by Milton Craig and Donald Dunn. Junior Red Cross life-saving classes are held Tuesdays and Thursdays at 9:30 a. m. for those under 16, and for those 16 or over Monday and Friday evenings at seven. Anyone not able to make those times should speak to Mr. Hackney.

Last year 104 youngsters learned to swim and 12 people passed life-saving.

POST OFFICE SUMMER HOURS

The post office will close Saturday afternoons at 2:00 during the summer months, starting this Saturday.

Lawn Sprinkler Use Forbidden

The use of lawn sprinklers was strictly forbidden in an emergency order issued this morning by the Board of Public Works as the result of a severe draft on the town's water supply which threatened complete depletion of the reservoir by nightfall unless some severe step was taken. The ban on sprinklers will be lifted of course when the condition is alleviated.

The department has been pumping 24 hours a day for several days. In the morning the level has been usually down about three to four feet, which is pretty near half the reservoir. Shortly before nine this morning it was down 5½ feet, over half empty, with no chances of a gain during the day.

Supt. Gilliard was making the rounds today to see everybody using sprinklers.

The local plant which has been using a tremendous amount of water, has curtailed its use by methods inside the plant, changing valves, etc.

TO THE INHABITANTS OF THE TOWN OF ANDOVER

Due to the heavy draft on the town's water system because of the dry spell, the use of lawn sprinklers is strictly prohibited until conditions change.

Police Blotter

Two breaks were reported this week, one in a camp on a Foster's pond island, and another in a camp along the Shawsheen river. In the latter break a canoe was taken and later found in a grove, while in the former a lamp, some fuel oil and trinkets were taken, and a boat was sunk.

Exam For Sergeant Called For August 8

An examination for promotion to the sergeant's vacancy in the police department has been called by the Civil Service Commission for August 8th.

The commission has certified the names of George Duffon, George Waldie and Joseph O'Brien for the vacancy in the regular force, in that order.

LOCAL GIRL ON SCHOLARSHIP HONOR ROLL

Listed on the Scholarship Honor roll at the University of Redlands, Calif., for the Spring semester, 1941, is Joyce Hansen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lorentz Hansen, 7 Dumbarton street.

Sixty-six Register At 21 Years Of Age

Sixty-six local young men who have become 21 between last October 17th and July first journeyed to the town house Tuesday to register for the draft. Army plans call for a lottery shortly to determine the order of induction, and then these men will be interspersed among the present potential draftees.

In Andover's draft area 106 registered, 37 being from North Andover and three from Boxford.

Father Austin Returned To Parish

News out of Philadelphia last Thursday night sounded very good to Andover's residents. Once every three years the Order of St. Augustine convenes down at Villanova, and usually there are changes in pastorates throughout the order. A pastor's term is three years, and he is usually eligible for a second, though not a third, term.

Andover's Father Austin was re-appointed pastor at the local St. Augustine's church for another three years.

Children's Day

Program in B. V.

Sunday morning, in the regular morning worship hour at 10:30, the children of the primary department of the Methodist Church presented their annual Children's Day program under the direction of Mrs. Carl E. Wilson. The program was preceded by a short worship service, a sermonette by the pastor and the baptismal service, at which time Doris May Townsend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Townsend of Andover street, and Frederick Russell Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hall of Hall avenue, were baptized.

The following children took part in the program: Dickie Lawrence, Donald Ness, Dolly Lawrence, Billy Shaw, Marilyn Ness, Cynthia Lawrence, Nelson Townsend, Billy Townsend, Doris Nicoll, Alfred Duke, Martha and Elsie Seymour, John Ness, Shirley Nicoll, Bobby Ness and Gardner Townsend. Benediction was then given by Rev. Carl Wilson.

Baptist Church To Be Presented Murals

The Baptist Church rejoices to announce that the two murals presented to the church by the artist, George Takata of Lawrence, will be dedicated Sunday, July 6, at 10:45 during the usual worship service. The dedication program will be as follows: Scripture readings, "The Good Shepherd"; solo, "The Ninety and Nine," by Mrs.

Kenneth Thompson; Scripture readings, "Gethsemane"; solo, "Go to Dark Gethsemane," by Miss Helen Albers; brief address by George Takata; acceptance in behalf of the church by the pastor.

The paintings are on the subjects of "The Good Shepherd" and "Christ in the Garden." They are five by seven feet, and will be hung on either side of the organ in the main auditorium.

Playgrounds Register Nearly 500 Children

The playground schedule started this week, with registration on Tuesday and Wednesday. More than 275 registered at the Central, and about 75 at each of the Ballardvale and Shawsheen playgrounds. Apparatus will be installed for use early next week.

Tonight there will be flag wind-up and couple races on each of the playsteads.

Miss Davis again is dividing her time among the three. At Central James Doherty is assisted by Ebon Bendroth and June Cates, at Ballardvale, George Zink, Alma MacTammany and Shirley Hay are the instructors, and at Shawsheen Benjamin Dimlich, Eleanor Raidy and Gladys Surette are in charge. Eleanor Driscoll, now at the Vale, will divide her time among all three in handwork.

The staff has been handicapped by the illness of Miss Caroline Abbott and James Bisset, who have been in playground service for several years.

WHERE TO GO WHAT TO DO

Vale Fourth Celebration Program Packed With Many Features

There's really only one place to go tonight and tomorrow—it's Ballardvale. Back in the old days the committees exercised the Yankee trait of hanging onto some of the money turned in so that they'd have something to start with for the next year's celebration. The last time they had a big celebration in the Vale was about five years ago, and the committee that time put a little aside.

But that's all out the window this year. They're going to spend every bit of the money from the last time and every last cent of the money they've collected this time. And if you haven't helped out, why not sit right down and send a check to Dick O'Brien, Vale postmaster?

The big celebration will start tonight at eight, with a band concert by the Andover Brass band lasting until 10. This will take place at the playground: just drive down Central street, under the railroad bridge and along Andover street, and there you are. You should hear those boys play "Amapola!"

At midnight there'll be a bonfire, and really it will be quite a bonfire. Fifty feet high, they say. "We've got plenty of material, more than we can use. You don't know any other town that needs some barrels for their bonfire, do you?" That's what the committee-men told us; if you don't believe it, go down to see it; if you do believe it, you'll be there anyway.

Now tomorrow morning at eight the horribles parade will start, lasting probably an hour and a half. They do things up brown in the Vale; it'll be a real horribles parade. It will start off with the fire chief's new car and one of the newer pumps, with these of course not in the prize competition. Following it will be a model fire truck, constructed by Tim Haggerty, who is chairman of the horribles parade. He's planning to give a demonstration with this truck; it squirts water, and does many of the other things the real article can do. Then after that will come the horribles, and already there have been twenty entries. The Brass band will furnish the martial music.

At ten in the morning there will be a baseball game on the playground.

Andover will have a share in the afternoon celebration, for there is to be a four-mile marathon which will start out at the North Andover-Andover line on Elm street at one o'clock. The runners, about 15 of them, will then proceed down Elm street through the square on to Central street and under the bridge to Andover street. They will end up, if they last, in front of the post office. It is expected that the run will take about 25 minutes.

At 1:30 there will be a vehicle parade, which will be followed by a gala array of land sports, including all the old stand-bys: pie-eating, three-legged sack races, nail-driving, fat ladies, etc.

Immediately after the conclusion of these the water sports will start, taking place in the river right across the railroad tracks. There will be swimming races of course, and these will be followed by such things as tilting and canoe races. A feature novel to Vale celebrations will be a tug-of-war between two row-boats with anchor-men being strictly illegal. It is expected that this portion of the program will conclude at 6:30.

From eight to ten there will be a block dance in the Vale center, which is on Andover street in front of the Community rooms.

The Ballardvaliants have been working hard on this program; we stick-in-the-muds up here in Andover should do our part by joining in the fun and in contributing a little something.

JULY 18—Fourth Annual Dance and Selection

Well, lads, bring your charming lassies to the Balmoral Spa garden on the evening of July 18, and your choice may be the choice of the judges. Then you would be luckiest fellow there for having the privilege of escorting Miss Shaw-sheen.

Express Train Kills Little Boy

The 4:55 out of Boston, express to Lawrence, last Thursday night made two stops, and if it hadn't made the first, it probably wouldn't have had to make the second, and little four-year-old Jackie McCarthy probably would still be alive.

The East Wind, two minutes late on its run from New York city, came onto the Portland division at Lowell Junction, and the 4:55 stopped there to let the flyer precede it on the run to Maine. Because of this the express was a minute late going through Andover, and that minute meant a lot, an awful lot.

REVERE

Jackie had been playing in the field near the tracks with some of his chums. His mother had missed him and was out looking for him when in some way Jackie went down near the tracks. Little is known of how the fatal accident occurred, but possibly he was sucked in to the train as it sped past. When the express screeched to a stop near the North Mainstreet bridge, there was a little boy huddled up at the side of the track not far from the crossing. A kind death had been instantaneous.

Jackie was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. McCarthy of 34 Pearson street. Sharing in the deep loss was his little brother Edward, aged only six.

Prominent Business Man Passes Away

Andover grieved at the loss of one of its familiar, and respected, business figures this week. On Sunday, after only a month's illness, Paul P. Simeone, 34 of whose 62 years had been spent in Andover, passed away at his home on High street.

He was born in Italy, but came to this country when he was 16 years of age. After spending some time in business with his brothers in Waltham, he came to Andover, opening a variety store in the Musgrove building. Several years ago he purchased the old Valpey block, razed it and built the modern business structure which now houses the drug store run by his son William, the variety store which had been run by him with his daughter Mary's help, and the X-L cleaning establishment and haberdashery run by Paul, Jr.

MAN, July 3, 1941

He was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him, and they were many. Kind, courteous, a perfect gentleman, he leaves a place that will be hard to fill in Andover's business life.

Mrs. Simeone survives with the three children, and there are two brothers, Guy and James of Wal- tham.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning with a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Augustine's church, burial being in St. Patrick's cemetery, Stoneham.

Young Organist Removed By Death

Marion Kennedy came to Andover less than two years ago. A little after Thanksgiving in 1939 St. Augustine's church called her to take over the duties of organ- ist and choir director, and by Christmas time the young lady had her choirs organized so that the annual Christmas music program gave promise of even finer things to come. And those finer things did come. St. Augustine's parish- ioners counted it a real pleasure to go to the masses at which Marion played and her choirs sang, with her own voice singing out in solo parts. She took an active part too in the parish entertainments, min- strel shows, school programs, etc., raising them all to new standards of perfection.

The parish grew to consider Marion an adopted daughter, and her choir members, who had the advantage of knowing her better than the other parishioners, grew to love her. They felt proud of her, and well they might have. After her Lawrence school educa- tion she had gone to the New Eng- land Conservatory of Music, work- ing her way through by clerking in a drug store in her spare time. She taught piano for some time, and sang solos at her parish church, St. Patrick's. Then came the call to Andover.

She was happy in her work here. Life was being good to her. Last fall she became the bride of John P. Naughton of Lawrence, and the two were looking forward to a happy future. But on Satur- day night Marion answered an- other call; her Maker needed her. Stricken suddenly ill on Thursday she had been in a coma for two days. As her young life ebbed away, she was spared the knowl- edge of her suffering and she died

DEATHS

Edwin G. Strain died Thursday at the Lucy Hastings Hospital, Manchester, N. H., after a short illness. Mr. Strain was a Boston & Maine R. R. conductor, and was a member of the Elks Lodge of Mel- rose and the Brotherhood of Rail- road Trainmen. He leaves his wife, Lena Davis Strain, who formerly resided at the Carter home on High Plain road; also two sisters, Mrs. Anne Perry and Mrs. Frank Chandler.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the West Parish Church, and services were conducted by Rev. Donald Savage and Rev. Newman Matthews, for- mer pastor of the West Church. The bearers were: Rufus Carter, Warren Bly, Russell Dow, Frank Morrell, Webster Bray and Bery Moreland. Cremation took place in Harmony Grove, Salem.

The widow of Hugo E. Dick, Mrs. Elizabeth (Wirth) Dick, died Tuesday morning at her home, 115 Haverhill street, following a long illness. Born in Bavaria, 1861, she resided in Greater Lawrence for the past sixty-eight years and was a member of the German Presby- terian Church, the Ladies' Aid So- ciety and the mission committee of the church. She also was past president of the German Old Folks' Home Society and a member of Edleweiss Lodge, D. O. H.

WEDDINGS

Fowler-Wade

Miss Dorothy Louise Wade, daughter of Mrs. Austin P. Wade, 12 Florence street, became the bride of Walter Myers Fowler, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John W. Fowler of Reading, on Saturday, June 28. The double ring ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Frederick B. Noss of the South Congregational Church, at the home of the bride, which was attractively decorated in palisus, white gladioli and larkspur.

Fred K. Fowler of Lawrence, brother of the groom, was best man, and Mrs. Carl S. Gregg, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bride's cousin, Miss Adele Bat- tinson of Waltham, served as bridesmaid.

The couple left on a motor trip, and will be at home to greet friends at Fairmount road, Reading after October first.

Curtin-Riley

Last Saturday afternoon, Miss Eleanor Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Riley, 8 Giles street, Me- thuen, became the bride of Francis Curtin, son of Ralph Curtin, 33 En- more street, at a ceremony per- formed at St. Monica's church, Me- thuen. Rev. William J. Donlon of- ficiated, and Edward Walsh, or- ganist, played the wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her father; her maid of honor was Miss Agnes Hurley; and the bridesmaid was Miss Rita Lucy. John Sullivan was best man and Christopher Shorten and Robert Bell were ushers.

Broussard-Lynch

At a pretty ceremony held in St. Augustine's church on Monday, Miss Helen Lynch, daughter of Mrs. Mary Lynch, 3 Sweeney court, became the bride of William A. Broussard, High street. Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., officiated, and the wedding march was played by Miss Mary Lannigan, who later sang "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother."

Miss Margaret C. Sullivan, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and Arthur T. Locke, friend of Mr. Broussard, was best man.

Gerrymander Again

They're working on redistricting for the United States Congress, just as they did a year or so ago for the General court of the Commonwealth. A petition has been presented to the redistricting commission, asking that Andover be returned to the district with Lowell as it was formerly before its transfer to the Lawrence-Lynn district. The reasoning is obvious: Andover's Republican votes count for nothing now, for the district is lopsidedly Democratic. Were Andover with Lowell the Republican votes would count for something then, because that district is safely Republican, represented by Edith Nourse Rogers. And then of course the Andover Democratic votes would count for nothing.

Of course the whole system is wrong. Andover's Republican votes should count for something; so should its Democratic votes. The process of gerrymandering all over the nation, which unfortunately had its origin here in Essex county in Governor Gerry's days, is certainly undemocratic. We say here in Andover that we are really unrepresented in Congress. The town has a Republican majority, and legally its Congressman is a Democrat from Lynn. It doesn't make sense. And yet a change might disfranchise another majority group in another town.

Redistricting comes close to being Fascistic in one sense. The party in power has the power by rearranging the districts to keep itself in power longer than the actual majority over the state or nation would warrant, and that's not Democracy, it's not representative government, it's decidedly unrepresentative.

And the trouble is of course that the party in power doesn't want to do anything about changing it, for it might be making a change that would be in effect reading itself out of office. Yet it should be done: our General court in Boston, or our House of Representatives in Washington, should reflect the wishes of the majority of the people, and gerrymandering should be thrown out. Some form of election at large combined with a feature that would insure distribution of representation over a fairly wide area would solve the problem. It's not too much to hope for.

Your Turn, Ladies

Now, ladies, it's up to you. Making surgical dressings isn't hard work, especially when there are so many of you in the room that you can have a gay old chat while you're making them.

Well, there should be a lot of you. There haven't been as many as there should be. You're needed badly, for the surgical dressings are needed badly. The Red Cross throughout the nation has been enlisting ladies to aid in making surgical dressings, and here in Andover the local chapter also has been trying to meet its quota. But you shouldn't leave it up to a few; you should all do your bit. This war-torn world of ours today needs all the surgical dressings it can get.

All you have to do is this: On Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 10, or Wednesday and Thursday mornings from 9 to 12, drop into the November clubhouse on Locke street; bring along an apron or house dress, a nice clean one, and pitch in. You'll enjoy it, and you'll be doing a lot of good. Why don't you try it once? Chances are you'll be a repeater if you do.

WATER RATES CHANGED

A change in water rates was announced this week by the Board of Public Works. For small users the rates don't go up, and possibly will be a few cents less.

Over 100,000 gallons per quarter the price rises; it formerly was seven cents per cubic foot, and it has gone up to nine cents, or 12 cents per thousand gallons.

Thomas J. Rogers, 77 Boxford street, Lawrence, and Rita F. Winters, 177 North Main street, June 28, by Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., at St. Augustine's Church.

Clicquot Club Gingerale Again Shows the Way

Back in 1927 the billboards on the Newburyport Turnpike from Boston, Massachusetts, to the State of Maine told the story of the attention given to the quality, ageing, bottling and servicing of Clicquot Club Gingerale. Today, the people of New England are no strangers to the charming child dressed in Arctic furs found in all Clicquot Club Company advertising, nor are they strangers to the delicious, refreshing gingerale which this company has been manufacturing for over fifty years. We in Andover salute the Clicquot Club Company for this opportunity to connect directly the J. E. Greeley Company with the vast advertising program which the Clicquot Club Company has planned for the people of New England.

LIBRARY NOTES

Among the recent additions to the Memorial Hall Library are the following books:

"Captain Paul" (Ellsberg): A long, exciting story of John Paul Jones, with a thrilling sea background and the dramatic setting of the early American navy.

"Glencannon Afloat" (Gilpatric): The self-effacing bibulous hero of Saturday Evening Post fame presents himself in a new sea-faring epic.

Of interest to workers for defense: Audel's, "Machinists and Tool-makers Handy Book"; "Airplane Welding and Materials" (Johnson); "The Aviation Mechanic."

"What I Believe" (Asch): The author of the Nazarene, an interpretation of the life of Christ as given by a Jewish writer, outlines the history of Judaism and Christianity.

"Arsenic and Old Lace: a Comedy" (Kesselring): The gentle art of murder under refined circumstances. The play is admittedly one of the funniest presented in New York.

For those who like to do things: "Holiday Cards for You to Make" (Ackley); "The Silk Screen Printing Process" (Biegeleisen); "Complete Book Of Garden Magic" (Blies); "Motor's Factory Shop Manual"; "Garden Clubs and Spades" (McKinney); "The Theatre Handbook" (Sobel).

"Japan Unmasked" (Abend): The New York Times' correspondent believes we should go to war with Japan at once, and he surveys the situation with brilliance, honesty and clarity.

"A Diabetic Manual for the Mutual use of Doctor and Patient" (Joshin): An authoritative handbook.

Books for parents: "Feeding Our Old-fashioned Children" (Aldrich); "Your Child's Development and Guidance Told in Pictures" (Meek); "Children Are People" (Post); "Children in the Family" (Powdermaker and Grimes); "The Opening Doors of Childhood" (Sherrill).

"A House for Emily" (Reeves): A pleasant and worthwhile story of a young couple who postpone owning a house until the family is grown, then find that the plan of possession was more important than the realization of it.

For the mystery readers: "Drink to Yesterday" (Coles); "Good Night, Sheriff" (Stevens); "Head Over Heels in Murder" (Shriber); "A Toast to Tomorrow" (Coles).
